Fifth German WPC Conference

The European lead conference of the WPC-industry!

10 – 11 December 2013, Maritim Hotel, Cologne, Germany

Sponsoring

Present your company in the trend-setting environment of the Fifth German WPC Conference. We offer you the opportunity to present yourself as a sponsor, dinner, lunch or coffee break host. These and other sponsoring opportunities ensure a perfect presentation of your company and offer manifold ways of communication.

Exhibition

The exhibition provides all interested companies, associations and institutes with the possibility of informing all conference participants about new products and developments, of establishing new networks and interacting with the experts.

WPC Innovation Award 2013

The WPC innovation award wants to inspire the WPC industry but also other interested companies from different industries for innovative ideas regarding product development and design as well as the realisation of new technologies.

The Innovation Award wants to encourage the development of new, material suitable applications and markets for the Wood Plastic Composites (WPC). In the focus of the product innovation is a WPC-product which should have entered the market in 2012/2013 or will be entering the market very shortly. After a preselection of a jury the winner of the competition will be elected by the participants.
